Comanche and Arapahoe tribes, the town of Woodward was established in 1887 when the railroad arrived. The railroad made Woodward a stop on the Great Western Cattle Trail. Woodward grew as the depot shipped thousands of cattle east and soon got a reputation as a rough-and-tumble frontier town. Located in the western quadrant of the Cherokee Outlet, the town began 6 years before the outlet was officially opened to non-Indian settlers as a provisioning point for Fort Supply.

Woodward's story forever changed the night of April 9, 1947 when a tornado ripped across the city. History would now be measured as having happened before or after the tornado. In November 1956, Woodward began a new adventure - oil and gas production; McCormick #1 became the country's discovery gas well, and a boom of more than twenty years followed. Now the gateway to NW Oklahoma, Woodward showcases the enduring spirit of the original pioneers with genuine hometown hospitality and Wild West history.

One of the original seven State Parks built in the 1930's, Boiling Springs State Park is a natural 'oasis on the plains'. The park is named after the natural 'boiling' spring that still flows and keeps the lake full and the surrounding land fertile through even the driest of summers. The Boiling Springs Golf Course, one of the finest municipal golf courses in the country, provides players one of the most challenging playing experiences in the region.

During the Great Depression, local Works Progress Administration projects well (a failed oil well venture), which formed Crystal Beach Lake and the adjacent park. Crystal Beach Park includes Crystal Beach Aquatics Center, Fuller Park Baseball field, a spring-fed lake always stocked with a variety of fish, tennis courts, football fields, indoor and outdoor sports facilities, picnic areas, a playground and a band-shell. Crystal Beach Lake facility has also become home to the Elks Rodeo, which began in 1929.

Historical Significance

Originally, the area was the home of Kiowa, Cheyenne, Comanche and Arapahoe tribes. The town of Woodward was established in 1887 when the railroad arrived Located in the western quadrant of the Cherokee Outlet, the town began 6 years before the outlet was officially opened to non-Indian settlers as it was needed as a provisioning point for Fort Supply. Woodward has been a trade center ever since. The railroad made Woodward a stop on the Great Western Cattle Trail, and Woodward grew as the depot shipped thousands of cattle back east. Woodward soon got a reputation as a rough-and-tumble frontier town, and tales of the gunfights of the famous attorney Temple Houston are still told today. During the Great Depression, local Works Progress Administration projects included the damming of an artesian well (a failed oil well venture) to form Crystal Beach Lake and its adjacent park. Woodward's story forever changed the night of April 9, 1947 when a tornado ripped across the city. History would now be measured as having happened before or after the tornado! In late November 1956, Woodward began a new adventure - oil and gas production. McCormick #1 became the country's discovery gas well, and a boom of more than twenty years followed.

ALVA (Woods County)

Alva was established in 1893 as a land office from the Cherokee Outlet Land Run, the largest of the land rushes that settled western and central Oklahoma. The site was likely named for a railroad attorney, Alva Adams, who had become governor of Colorado.

Today, the city council is actively soliciting murals -- one of the most recent is of the storied "Castle on the Hill." Marvelous murals can be found throughout the town square. The Runnymede has an interesting history and provides a community room with a full kitchen. The Alva Community Theatre, Inc. (ACT 1) offers live entertainment in June and November. Alva hosts a First Friday Art Walk on the first Friday of each month in Alva's Arts & Shopping District. In September, join us for the RACE Big Cruise & Car Show.

Alva is a destination for numerous northwest Oklahoma attractions, such as Bradt's Menagerie Petting Farm, Byron's Fish Hatchery, Little Sahara State Park, The Great Salt Plains Lake and State Park, Alabaster Caverns State Park and the Twister Museum in Wakita.

The Cherokee Strip Museum of Alva is located in the former Alva General Hospital. Upon visiting the Museum you will find many authentic historical items displayed in one of the 40 rooms throughout the building. Local families whose ancestors settled in Woods County at the time of the 1893 land run are striving to see that history is preserved and future generations have these artifacts to see and understand their heritage. An authentic one room school house is located on the museum complex. Classes are taught in the spring in the school house and conducted as an early day "country" school. Special treasures in the Museum are artifacts from the German P.O.W. camp stationed in Alva during World War II.

The more adventurous can go spelunking throughout the cave system; however, for the more down to earth visitor a network of stairs, handrails and well carved pathways allow you to experience the magnificence and Aline hosts a Fall Fair on the second weekend in October. The celebration is kicked off Friday evening with cannon firing bowling balls and homemade cake and ice cream. Saturday morning the motor cycle poker run leads the parade. Visitors can enjoy soup cooked in an 80, 30 and 20 gallon cast iron kettles the old fashioned way; outdoors on an open fire. Marshall McCully made the Cherokee Outlet Land Run of 1893 staking his claim south of Aline, Oklahoma. He built his two-room home with one-half acre of thick buffalo grass sod and used alkali clay to plaster the inside walls. Completed in 1894 McCully added a wood floor one year later in 1895. Today the museum encloses the original Sod House.

Kingfisher Park on Highway 33 houses the Vernie Snow Aquatic Center and you might also like to play a round of golf at the adjoining 18-hole golf course, stroll across the 105 year old swinging bridge... or take in a movie at the three-screen 89'er Theatre downtown. Kingfisher takes great pride in our July Fourth parade, park festivities, concert and fireworks display, as well as our downtown Christmas Parade held each December which concludes with a spectacular fireworks extravaganza set to music. "Kingfisher Winter Nights", located in Kingfisher Park, begins November 25th and is open through December 25th. TONKAWA (Kay County)

Native Americans, hardy pioneers, educators, oilmen, German prisoners of war and creative citizens have all left their mark on this city on the Salt Fork River. Tonkawa (the word translates as "they all stay together") takes its name from the Tonkawa Tribe. Because of abundant wheat production in the area, Tonkawa styles itself the "Wheatheart of Oklahoma." The picturesque Heart in the Park Labyrinth with its timeline of Tonkawa history and the Grand Heart Walk of art panels surrounded by personalized pavers are the latest additions to Centennial Park. A number of historical monuments and three museums - the McCarter Museum of Tonkawa History, the Tonkawa Tribal Museum and the A.D. Buck History and Historical Significance Welcome Center - give glimpses of the Tonkawa was the site of a POW camp during history of the Tonkawa.

BLACKWELL (Kay County)

This small-town packs a big punch! Surrounded by five casinos, Blackwell also plays host to a thriving event center for circuses, drone races and rodeos. This charming town is also home to the largest county fair in the state, taking place the first full week in September of every year. With an economy that has been based in agriculture and the oil and gas industry, during the 1930s through the 1960s, Blackwell ranked only behind Oklahoma City and Tulsa in Oklahoma for the amount of jobs in its industrial and manufacturing sectors. Companies that have operated in Blackwell include Blackwell Zinc Smelter, Blackwell Milling and Elevator Co., Blackwell Ice Company, Consolidated Gas Co., and Hazel-Atlas Gas. Blackwell has become home to textile research, development and manufacturing, investment casting, high tech manufacturing, and oil and gas service and distribution firms.

While in town, stop in and visit the Top of the Oklahoma Museum, enjoy a home-cooked meal at any of the local spots, take a dip in the community pool and say "hi" to the locals!

Ponca City thrives on the depth of its rich history, diversity of its attractions, its elegant architecture and the unique nature of the pioneers who made Ponca City their home.

In 1914 oil baron E.W. Marland began construction on his first home for his wife and adopted family. This now restored 22-room mansion was designed with ground breaking amenities, including the first indoor swimming pool in Oklahoma. Current displays showcase Marland's family and his oil empire of the 1920's, the 101 Ranch Museum and a large collection of Native American artifacts from area tribes.

Modeled after the Davanzati Palace in Florence, Italy, the E.W. Marland Estate, a 55-room 43,000 sq. ft. "castle on the prairie", contains a leather-lined elevator, 12 bathrooms, 3 kitchens, 7 fireplaces and an elegant ballroom with a 24-karat gold leaf covered ceiling worth over $2 million. Marland built this 1928 home to be his "retreat." It is now listed as a National Historic Landmark.

Mr. Marland's Marland Oil Company and Isaac Blake's Continental Oil & Transportation - merged together to become Conoco, a 20th century energy company like no other. The Conoco Museum is a state-of-the-art museum depicting the transformation from two independent American success stories to one.

Opening in 1927, the Poncan Theatre enjoyed the "golden era" of cinema and all that came with it. A $1 million restoration project in 1994, restored the theatre to its original beauty. Today the Poncan is home to a large collection of hand-painted movie posters from the 1920's & 1930's, all original to the theatre, which hosts numerous musical and theatrical events throughout the year.

The tallest bronze statues in the state of Oklahoma live in Ponca City; the 22-foot Poncan Chief Standing Bear and the 30-foot "Confident," a tribute to the women that helped settle the west.

The Standing Bear Museum and Education Center is home to many artifacts from the six area tribes as well as a beautiful art gallery containing Native American art and pottery. A permanent arbor, located just west of the park, hosts the annual Standing Bear Pow Wow held in September. Enjoy a stroll down a winding trail with tribal viewing courts that tell the story of the six area tribes: Kaw, Osage, Otoe-Missouria, Pawnee, Ponca, and Tonkawa.

The famous Pioneer Woman
Statue and Museum tells the stories of Oklahoma's pioneering women and their influences on the development of the state and nation through rotating exhibits and historical artifacts.
"Confident" was chosen from the work of twelve sculptors by the votes of 750,000 people from across the USA.

Ponca City is also home to the Bryant Baker Gallery, the Matzene Art Collection, the L.A. Cann Gardens, the Wentz Pool & Camp, the Ponca City Art Center, three lakes, eight casinos, opportunities for outdoor recreation on walking/biking trails and three disc golf courses.

This thriving, diverse community provides many events throughout the year, such as the Herb Festival, KawFest, Cruisin' Grand, Cherokee Strip Golf Classic, Ponca City Fine Arts Festival, Cherokee Strip BBQ Cook-off, PRCA 101 Wild West Rodeo, Standing Bear Pow Wow, Oktoberfest, Holiday Happenings and the largest Festival of Angels lighting display in northern Oklahoma and southern Kansas.
